

A window into history

The author reads the Holmes letters, written 114 years ago, at the base museum.

Colin MacLock photo

The Work Point Officers' Mess and Quarters, with the gable window behind which the children had their playhouse.

Work Point Arts Project Society